Matched HFAC Stage Facilities Contribute To Theatre Popularity

ow popularity and interest in the theatre arts can be attributed to the Harris Center which has made use of facilities never available in such abundance according to Dr. Metten, chairman of the Arts Dept.

AN OPENING spectacle "Lamp at Midnight" in the Dept. was certain to sell-outs for the followings-which it has done a major production this year. Dr. Hansen who also the production.

time, the speech and Arts Depts. were a lot. Even though they are correlated, today they are directed separately and elimination of each is different they are.

NEW FACILITIES in the theatre at BYU can be matched by no other university in the U.S. Every kind of production including open staging, arena, revolving stage, hydraulic lift and full grid housing are now possible on the BYU stage.

Dr. Morris Clinger, Chairman of the Speech Dept. is now the only instructor in that area who also teaches dramatic arts. Even as recently as last year there was considerable overlapping of instructors. Because of the increased enrollment in the Speech Dept. it takes nine full-time instructors, six graduate assistants and four laboratory assistants to do the job.

THE DEPARTMENT is divided into three general areas: Speech Education, Public Address-Forensics and Speech Correction.

The BYU Forensics squad under the direction of Ted Richardson has traveled some 40,000 miles throughout the nation participating in 27 tournaments during the year. The Y has long been known for its top debaters and in the past has won such national honors as the Harvard and Air Force Academy Tournaments.

GREAT ADVANCES have been taken in the area of Speech Pathology-Audiology according to Dr. Clinger. He also reported that all of the students graduating in Speech Correction who will go out at clinics in private clinics have qualified as members of the American Speech and Hearing Association.

'Teahouse' Opens At Drama Theatre

"Teahouse of the August Moon," a play filled with good sense about human and international relations, will open Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Drama Theater of the Harris Fine Arts Center.

THE POPULAR COMEDY, directed by Albert O. Mitchell, concerns the career of an American Army of Occupation officer stationed in a remote Okinawa village whose duty it is to teach democracy to the natives.

The show, which will continue presentations until March 31, stars Michiko Whipple as the beautiful talented Lotus Blossom, a geisha girl.

TICKETS for the entire week have been completely sold out according to Dramatic Arts Dept. officials.

1st Space Ship Steered In Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, FLA. (AP)—Astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young proved for the first time Tuesday that a space ship can be maneuvered while hurtling three times around the Earth.

AND ALTHOUGH THEY missed their target by some 58 miles, space officials proudly called this a textbook flight, where everything went as planned.

And soon Grissom and Young were reported, gay and waving, about the U.S.S. Intrepid, their objective all along. They marched down a red carpet on the carrier's deck to the Admiral's cabin and hours of debriefing.

Their flight lasted about 4 hours, 54 minutes, and they had traveled more than 81,000 miles.

And except for the brief flurry at the splashdown, the flight had been surprisingly undramatic, but highly successful.

Guitar Duo To Play For Concert

The accomplished virtuosos, Ida Presti and Alexandre Lagoya, will perform on the BYU-Community concert program Thursday, 8:15 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

The phenomenal guitar duo have listed works by Bach, Beethoven, and Handel on their program which will open with P. Sor's "Divertissement No. 1," according to Herald R. Clark, director of forums, concerts and lyceums.

ONE OF THE MOST highly rated husband and wife teams in classical music today, they have won critical praise and enthusiastic audience receptions in Europe, North Africa, India, Japan, Australia, United States, and Canada.

The program will continue with "Andante Varice" by Beethoven, five short dances by Bach and "Chaconne in G major" by Handel.

FOR THE SECOND HALF of their performance, Presti and Lagoya will play three pieces dedicated to them including "Prelude and Fugue in G minor" and "Prelude and Fugue in E Major" by Castelnuovo-Tedesco and "Tartarini" by P. Pettit.

To conclude the program they will play "Prelude," "Malaguena" and "Zortzico" by Albentz and "Premiere Danse de La Viva Brava" by de Falla.

Prior to their marriage and subsequently teaming as a duo, both Miss Presti and Lagoya were accomplished guitar virtuosos of wide distinction.

For Grissom and Young calmly put their Gemini 3 ship—nicknamed the Molly Brown—through intricate outer space paces.

BY FIRING THRUST rockets, they nudged it down, from side to side and turned it around as they whirled along faster than 17,000 miles an hour.

Grissom and Young did it so smoothly and unemotionally that it was hard to believe that this was any more dangerous or difficult than driving a car down crowded highway A-1-A here in Cape Kennedy.

Everything went smoothly, too, after the spacecraft had parachuted into the Atlantic at 2:18 p.m. EST. It was quickly spotted, frogman swam over to apply a collar that would make certain the capsule continued to float, and Grissom and Young were airlifted from the craft to the Intrepid.

Had they been exactly in target the astronauts would have remained in it as specified until it was hoisted aboard the carrier. But the ship was too far away for this procedure.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON quickly offered his congratulations. "We're very proud of you and very grateful for your safe return," the President said in a direct phone call to the astronauts.

Election Results To Be Announced

Results of the final class election will be announced Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. in 245 JKB. Candidates who have not yet turned their expense statements in, should turn them in at the meeting.

Those people planning to be candidates in a general student body election should have their dean's clearance slips in to the elections office, 113 Withins Center by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday.

'Follow The Brethren' Admonishes Speaker

by Douglas Wright
Univest Staff Writer

"Follow the Brethren" was the counsel of Boyd K. Packer, Assistant to the Council of the Twelve in his address at Tuesday's Devotional Assembly.

"THE BURDEN of my message can be summed up in the three words: 'Follow the Brethren.' In those three words rest the most important counsel I can give to you," he said.

Elder Packer pointed out that there are those . . . who sustain part of the General Authorities and not others . . . and who feel they should immediately change if put into a high position.

HE EMPHASIZED, however, "if you won't be loyal in the small things, you can't be loyal in the large things; therefore, there won't be a chance for the larger things."

"Some feel that by obeying the Lord's counsel we forfeit our free agency. It is through obedience that we gain freedom" he said.

REFERRING to the Devotional Assembly as the one assembly set aside for devotional or spiritual purpose, Elder Packer stated that most attendance is for the purpose of drawing from the General Authorities speaking answers to questions.

"But," he counseled, "the inspiration you may draw depends only upon the action of the General Authority has put into it. It depends more on the preparation you have made to receive the message."

"WE SHOULD ASK ourselves the questions: Do I need to improve myself . . . Do I take counsel only passively on the action of the Lord? There is anyone too weak to follow the council, is it?" he noted.

The youthful Church leader concluded with emphasis to his listeners to "keep standards of worthiness so the Lord can communicate with you concerning those responsibilities that concern you."

Counselor, Educator Dies

"Find what you want to do—and keep busy doing it—and you'll be safe and sound."

That was the philosophy given by Professor William H. Boyle on his 90th birthday last October.

A distinguished educator, counselor and BYU emeritus, Prof. Boyle died at the age of 90 last week.

Prof. Boyle joined the BY Academy faculty in 1905 as principal of the training school under President Benjamin Cluff. He was principal of the high school for 16 years after which he served a long tenure in the College of Education as a teacher and counselor. For six years he was family counselor at Utah State Hospital and his counseling reaches into the community as well as the university.

Prof. Boyle served as student, teacher or adviser under six BYU presidents—Karl G. Maeser, Benjamin Cluff, Dr. George H. Brimhall, Dr. F. S. Harris, Dr. Howard S. McDonald and Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson.

He has been accorded many honors. He received the Karl G. Maeser Distinguished Teaching Award in the Spring of 1963.

A devotion to the whole of humanity kept Prof. Boyle alert and interested in the affairs of others. He shared his compassion with many students and their families as well as neighbors and co-workers.

"There is good in everyone," Prof. Boyle would emphasize, "And what's more, it's easily found."

Prof. Boyle has influenced the lives of many BYU students and his memory will long exist by those who knew and associated with him.

We hear a lot of talk these days about socialism. Just the other day a good friend of mine said that he figured President Johnson's "Great Society" was just another socialist scheme. Socialism is a nasty word, so I had to tell my friend not to be so critical of our fine president's program. Just think of all the tremendous things the "Great Society" will include.

FOR INSTANCE, who could be against an anti-poverty program? Should people be permitted to be poor? Certainly not. We should pass a law requiring everyone to have an average income or higher. Poor, certainly. I am a coward when it comes to war—I would rather surrender than fight. When President Johnson declares an all out war on poverty I will be one of the first to surrender.

If the government doesn't want me to be poor, why should I go against it? The government owes me a living anyway, Johnson's anti-poverty program is not some new thing that won't work. As a pilot program it was first tried out on Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes, and it proved to be very successful.

I'VE HEARD A LOT of things said against Medicare, but I am 100 per cent behind it. After all, I'll get a free trip to Europe from it. You see, I'm going to cash in my medical insurance policy and save a lot of money that way. Besides, I won't have to pay for my retired father's operation because you tax will be footing the bill.

I understand that more aid to education is also in the grand plan of LBJ. High school graduates, if graduates are as dumb as it is quite obvious that they desperately need all the aid we can get. One of the real pranks in our schools is that the rich are unequally distributed.

SOME STATES HAVE no school kids that they can't get them. I think that children be redistributed throughout the country so that every state have an equal share.

Slum neighborhoods are an environment for children to grow up in. I think the government should subsidize the slums and move them into homes near wealthy neighborhoods. This will provide a better sphere for the slum children to grow up in. Besides, one should have the privilege of living next to a family on

LET US NOW WORK for the "Great Society." There will be no poor, no undermedicated among the aged, and no undernourished among the overpopulated. Just think, we have been all these benefits and taxes as well.

Campus Comment and Controversy

Start Learning

I am indebted to Mr. Stewart for his Campus Comment of Friday last in which he has enlightened me to the plight for which this institution faces. I am also indebted for his definition of highest academic learning which I had heretofore confused as academic indoctrination.

Thanks to Mr. Stewart's comments I now know that black stockings are indicative of licentious "dance hall girls." And that the argument that these stockings are warmer than the virtuous transparent stockings is just a facade for the real motive of exhibiting sinful legs by our immoral coeds.

The obvious solution to the problem of girls wearing tight slacks to school is to require all coeds to wear dresses which extend to their ankles, like in the "good old days."

But that would not be acceptable because we would never know which girls were wearing those immoral black stockings. Of course with our higher values and ideals we should not be looking at their legs anyway, should we Mr. Stewart?

I am grateful that Mr. Stewart has shown us how we can react to those who would wish to trample under the potential of this great institution with such devious methods as new and different ideas.

We must always guard against that insatiable force known as change. For as any blood-red innocent knows, to change is to destroy that "All-American dream" we refer to as the "good old days."

So in the spirit of higher learning, we must suppress those who advocate values different than ours. We must ostracize those rebels of conformity who insist upon challenging our minds with new ideas.

And above all, we must close our minds to those thoughts that might suggest that ways different to the past might possibly be superior to the past.

If we can just resist those who persist upon thinking for themselves, then we can progress all the way back to 1900. So let's all together, as in herd, stop thinking and start following. I mean start learning.

For we don't, the onslaught of this modern deviant might cause us to lose sight of those highest academic standards that we hold most sacred.

Bruin Salutes BYU

As a UCLA student at your campus last weekend for the NCAA Regionals, I couldn't help being impressed by several aspects of Brigham Young. It is a truly beautiful place, from its setting below those rugged and stark mountains to the Fieldhouse, and ranging all across the wide plains.

The new complex of buildings in the center of the campus, centering around what we Bruins felt was an incredibly busy Student Center, and the new dormitory facilities, and the new football stadium, all show the students at UCLA that BYU must certainly be a very progressive school.

And the spirit at the school, because it seems the school is the most important part of the community, seems to be constantly high (I've been at BYU another time for another Regionals), perhaps because there is no unbridgeable, seemingly on class status brought about by the Greek system that exists elsewhere in the United States.

One cannot but be impressed with the dancing programs at your school. As presented on several occasions during the two days, the dancing is sometimes emphatic, your school emphasizes dancing, and does an outstanding job of it.

And this, it seems to me, because of its nature, is conducive to a healthy attitude about dancing, the opposite sex, whereas, I am ashamed to say, at least this school, the dancing is sometimes in poor taste if not just lewd.

The most impressive aspect of BYU through it, seems, is the appearance of your ladies. The preponderance of really wholesome and attractive and well-groomed and well-dressed girls at BYU was a sight to behold and to remember for years to come. They are out of this world.

Congrats, this Bruin salutes you.

Becoming Fanatical

Lately there has been a great deal of talk both in print and in speeches about the Honor Code. It would seem to me that someone is becoming fanatical on the subject. Granted we have and should continue to have an honor code and a council to administer it, but why shove it down our throats.

It seems somewhat incongruous to me to preach honor to the student's faces then behind their backs, so to speak, we must be treated like thieves each time we leave the library.

"We trust you" the Honor System says, "but just in case let's see your activity card with your picture on it." Let's quit being hypocritical about this.

Don't expect us to trust you when it is obvious you do not trust us. If these things are necessary, then quit preaching the "Honor System."

Alan Robert Booth

So Inconsiderate

Here's hoping that those thoughtless BYU students who find it necessary to wear Indian trails into our campus lawns will be able to use the same rationalization that they now use to forgive and sympathize with those school children, etc., who will someday be ruining their lawns.

But then after they have had the experience of sacrificing to build a nice home and lawn I doubt seriously if they will think it such a trivial problem. I suspect they might be wondering as I am now, "how can those trespassers be so inconsiderate of others property?"

S. Viet Bombers Blast 3rd Target; Radar Network

SAIGON, VIET NAM. (AP)—With U.S. jets running interference, eight Vietnamese fighter-bombers blasted another station of North Viet Nam's radar warning network Tuesday and shot up convoys on a 50-mile stretch of coastal highway.

THE RADAR STATION, the third to be singled out for destruction this month, was at Ban Binh, 10 miles North of the border. A Vietnamese military spokesman said Communist ground fire was heavy, but the station was "knocked down and set aflame" in a 15-minute strike.

New Magazine Published Soon

"Emphasis" has been selected as the name for the new student literary and general magazine to be published on campus in about three weeks. Major items in the first issue will be winners of the Mayhew short story contest.

George Johnson, editor, announced that the magazine will have an impressive format and will include articles about various departments of the University as well as creative writing by students. The first issue will circulate 3,000 copies, he added.

Sponsors of the new publication include the Academic Emphasis Committee, the English Department and Student Publications. Working with Johnson on design and layout is a student. An introductory issue has been Elaine Goodman Universe Gallery Editor. Advisers are Jeannette Moeckel, representing the English Dept. and Mervyn C. Fairbanks for Student Publications.

"Emphasis" will be sold to students for 30 cents a copy.

Purpose of the magazine is to inform and provide a vehicle for creative expression, not to make a profit, Johnson explained.

British Question U.S. Act

LONDON—Britain is raising questions about the use of napalm and non-lethal gas in Viet Nam and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's statement concerning escalation of the war, Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Tuesday.

Greek Heads In Agreement

NICOSIA, CYPRUS.—Greek Defense Minister Petros Garofalakis said Tuesday he and President Makarios are in full agreement on military matters.

Greek Cypriot newspapers continued to speculate, however, that there is a "serious rift" between Greece and Cyprus over the future handling of the Cyprus dispute. The Greek Cypriot said Monday night that Makarios had turned down a request by Garofalakis to proceed with installation of Soviet anti-aircraft missiles on the island.

British Secretary Says ...

Need Change Of Heart

WASHINGTON, (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said Tuesday it would require "A considerable change of heart" by Soviet leaders before negotiations on Viet Nam will be possible.

THE COMMENT CAME after an hour and a half meeting with President Johnson.

In a brief news conference, Stewart made no mention of British uneasiness over the use of non-lethal gas in the fight against the Viet Cong and other steps by the United States and South Viet Nam tending to step up the level of the fighting.

There was speculation, however, that Stewart had raised the question of the use of tear gas during a breakfast meeting with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Although neither American nor British sources would confirm that this was a topic of conversation, Stewart's aides said he received early Tuesday a message from a group of labor members of Parliament expressing "horror and indignation" over the use of gas.

THE SUBJECT CAME up again Tuesday in the House of Commons when Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Britain wants an explanation of a statement attributed to U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor in Saigon that the United States intends to wage war without limit in Viet Nam.

Stewart said in his talks with Johnson that "we had a long conversation, discussing a considerable range of world problems, which ended with a very full understanding of each other's views."

'Bleeding Madras' Becomes Big Campus Status Symbol Of Coed

Madras is something of a status symbol—on campus, in the classroom or wherever young people meet.

There are many imitations but there is only one genuine Madras—a handloomed cotton fabric which comes from the state of Madras in India. This authentic Madras will "bleed"—giving the fabric a blurry or muted effect.

THIS "BLEEDING" is the true test of authenticity and young people demand this from their Madras fashions.

There are many classics in Madras—shorts, shirts and slim skirts—which will always be campus favorites. Clever little shifts feature enormous pockets and draw belts for a just-right fit for any figure—just perfect for classes, for casual dates, for any occasion where Madras is a must.

A NEWER LOOK is the Flirt Skirt, not just a skirt, nor exactly culottes and not quite shorts. A Flirt Skirt is a marvelous combination of all three, giving the feminine appearance of skirting along with the comfort of shorts.

Madras invites a girl's fashion imagination to mix and match different patterns (no two are ever identical because they are handloomed).

ONE OF FASHION'S most delightful designs is the wrap skirt. It adapts so beautifully to the busy, changeable lives today's young people lead. Wrap it around, tie the self-belt and it's a dressed-up look. A breeze for cover-ups when shorts are not allowed.

A touch of sophistication for the girl who prefers her Madras on the dresser side is the suit which is classic in styling with an easy cut to the jacket and slim skirt.

A touch of the sophisticate makes this pert suit a campus must for the ever-cool look for classes. Classes in styling, the slim skirt lends itself easily to other combinations for the busy and budget-wise collegiate.

Bells Ring At Helaman; New Decorating Trick

by Pat Mann
Universe Staff Writer

The bells are ringing in Helaman and the TP is flying.
And it all boils down to answers for questions like, "How's tricks."

ART JOHANSEN (So. Alberta), heard his alarm go off
Sunday morning and reached for the phone with a not too cheery, "Hello." His roommate, Don Livingston, (So. Alberta), could hardly contain himself it has been said. Somehow Art didn't think it was as funny.

Perhaps the call Art didn't receive was from one of the girls in Budge who have learned that with an extra long extension the telephone can reach through the window of the room nearest the bathroom and this is made available to bathers.

It ought to be some kind of boon to the girls who like long baths and telephone conversations, but those who have to wait for one of the long winded, extra dirty ones... well, they've got problems. And so do their waiting dates.

ON THE T.P. LINE... David Hutchings and Brent Anderson, both (So. Calif.), went out to their car, the Jolly Green Clubfoot (10th Year Grad. Calif.) (at least)... to find it covered inside with peach T.P.

Dave, and his "roomthing," as he calls Brent, finally had to clean it out three days later.

IN CHIPMAN HALL they found that if you take all the T.P. available and moisten it, it makes lovely decorative plaster for the outside of someone's door.

Sometimes too, things around Helaman are not what the students living there would like them to be. One of the most favorite people in Budge Hall, Cathy Conley, (Sr. Ariz.)
has had to leave school and naturally her job as senior resident, to go home because of illness.

CATHY, ACCORDING to the girls on third north of Budge, is a "great person, and a friend to everyone." They will be looking forward very much to her return in the fall.

Her replacement is now a question. Ed and Carolyn Harvey, dorm parents at Budge, might not object too much to their three month old daughter Tamara being given the position. After all, according to the Harveys Tammy is as advanced as most four month olds.

Champing At The Bit ...

Cat Cindermen Eager To Get Out

by Gary Wood
Universe Sportswriter

BYU's rapidly progressing track squad, fresh off sparkling indoor performances against rivals Utah and Utah State on successive Saturdays, is champing at the bit to test the new Cougar Stadium oval.

THE THREE fieldhouse records set by the Cougars against the Aggies last Saturday bear mute evidence of the hard work going on in the 'V facility these days. Brigham Young University is fortunate indeed to have such excellent—and costly—facilities for its athletic program. Few are the schools that have been able to provide students with the means of improving their skills in the "off season."

AT BYU the coaching staff of any of the sports can arrange practice time regardless of the month or weather because of the versatile, well-planned setup of the ultra-modern expansive fieldhouse.

The indoor facilities give the Rocky Mountain institution a great advantage over many of its neighbors which have less or none of the same advantages.

MOST BYU students are aware that all of the outdoor sports teams have availed themselves of the adaptable qualities of the West Annex to conduct workouts when necessary due to adverse weather.

However, the adaptability of the fieldhouse in assimilating ordinary, desirable conditions for track is not without its limitations.

TO PROVIDE a good running track for the Puma sprinters and distance men is a difficult task, and an assignment never completely adequate.

The Smith Fieldhouse track is composed of ordinary soil and sawdust, a far cry from the usual cinder or the rubberized to which most major coll. converting.

THE CONSTANT use the house receives has cat ground to become so hot that the tracksters often "shin splints"—a muscle in the calf or shin.

BYU's new outdoor oval best available. Rubberized is an all-weather track with advantage of eliminating tenance, increasing time, lowering painting of runoff among other qualities.

THE SOFT, yet durable Cougar home track assures times faster than ready posted by the Y. Smith wonder Coach Holbrook is anticipating Nature's cooperation in raising preseason com Saturday against Utah and State.

Whether in the West 4 Cougar Stadium, the track commences at 12:30 with events.

Jim Pritchard eases over the bar set at 15 feet 3/4 inches to set a new school record in that event. The Cougar thinclads will test Idaho State this Saturday.

Milwaukee ...

County Board OK's Purchase Of Ball Team

The road was cleared Monday to provide Milwaukee with a major baseball team after the Braves leave next year.

THE MILWAUKEE County board approved a state Senate bill which would empower the county to purchase a professional baseball club.

Some officials spoke against the proposed bill on the basis of keeping the county out of the baseball business. It is more important, they feel, to decide what inducements it would offer another club to move to Milwaukee.

THE COUNTY has not yet given up its long fight to force the Braves to remain in the Brew Capital. A delegation of county, city and possibly state officials will go to Washington to discuss possible antitrust action against the Braves it was disclosed.

The Braves are currently scheduled to complete their 1985 schedule in Milwaukee and then transfer operations to Atlanta, Ga.

East All-Stars Want Bradley For E-W Game

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Ivy League has been asked to let Bob Bradley play in the East-West College All-Star basketball game and thus complete one of the most powerful cage rosters in history.

THE IVY LEAGUE has a rule against play in post-season all-star games. There was no indication when a decision would be made on whether to waive it for Bradley.

Bradley, the 6-5 Princeton star, would be the fourth member of this year's Associated Press All-America team to agree to play in the classic Saturday at the University of Kentucky.

JOE LANCHE, who coached St. John's to a record fourth National Invitation Tournament championship last weekend, will coach the East. Doggie Julian of Dartmouth is coach for the West. BYU center John Fairchild will leave Provo for this tournament on Wednesday.

Final Stats Pick 1965 Cagers Best Ever — Records Shattered

Labels are often misleading, but it is safe to say that the basketball season just concluded by Brigham Young University has got to be labeled the best the Cougars have ever had.

INDIVIDUALLY, four players shot 50% or better from the floor, and all of the school's offensive records were re-written.

John Fairchild, the quiet, 6-8 center from Encinitas, Calif., finished a two-year career at BYU by eclipsing half a dozen records.

FAIRCHILD led the team in scoring and rebounding for the second straight year. He worked in 602 points, was credited with 348 rebounds, and was 49% effective from the floor. In a two-season span, he scored 1,109 points, had 678 rebounds, both school records.

Four other Cougars came up with new school marks. Steve Kramer, junior forward, set a school record with a .533 shooting average; senior Bob Quimby set a new free throw standard with 90% accuracy; and Mike Gardner set a career mark at BYU a steady 45% shooting per- centage for three varsity seasons.

IN TEAM categories Brigham Young set new conference scor- ing records of 94.6 points per game for the full season and 92.4 against WAC opponents. The Cougars also set new conference records of .489 in field goal per- centage and .775 in free throw shooting.

BYU Karate Enthusiasts Invited To SLC Tourney

Salt Lake City will be the site of the Western United States Karate Championships, Milt Krenshaw, Salt Lake City representa- tive, announced this week.

THE TOURNAMENT is to be held May 8 to be the first of its kind in Utah. Deseret Gymnasium will house the tournament which is open to all styles and systems of karate currently in use, Krenshaw said.

Competition is to include both teams and individuals from throughout the western part of the nation. Invitations are currently being extended to all known teams formed at universities and in clubs west of Chicago.

KRENSHAW emphasized however that membership in an or- ganization was no prerequisite and indicated a special desire on the part of the tournament com- mittee to have the many inde- pendent students of karate at BYU enter freely, as well as the Karate Kai Club.

The meet, which will be the 2nd largest karate tournament in the nation, will be a preliminary to the national finals held at Long Beach, Calif. in August. These in turn will provide the U.S. entrants in world competition.

Competition will begin at 10 a.m. May 8 following a 9 a.m. weigh in. The finals beginning at 10:30 p.m. will be televised live and in color, Krenshaw said, by KSL-TV.

The way I figure it, I can hardly afford to wake up tomorrow morning.

3. I thought you were loaded.
I have exactly a dollar thirty-two and three pages of green stamps.

4. Call your dad. He always comes through.

Not since he found out about that pair of elephant tusks I bought for $198.50.

5. Didn't you tell him tusks were so?

He told me I'd have to demonstrate a more sensible attitude toward money before he'd shell out anything above the substance level.

6. That's no problem. Next time you get some dough, get yourself a Living Insurance policy from Equitable.

It's one of the most sensible things you can do with your money. It guarantees security for your family, builds cash values you can always use, and by getting it now, when you're young, you pay less.

I'd do it but don't tell dad about my new stuffed alligator.

Should freshmen use it, too? (They'd probably let it go to their heads)

But then, wouldn't any man? If he suddenly found all those starry-eyed girls looking at him?

So, if you think you can handle it, go ahead, use SHORT CUT! It'll tame the wildest crew cut, brush out, any cut; give it more body, more life. Keep it under control. And make you look great! AEC Panel To Discuss Mormonism And Artists

The problem of "Mormonism and the Artist" will be discussed Thursday by three BYU artists who are also members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

THE PANEL program will be sponsored by the Academic Emphasis Committee at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose area of the Smith Family Living Center. Discussing the problem will be Dr. Clinton Larson of the English Dept., Dr. Merrill Bradshaw of the Music Dept. and Asst. Prof. Franz Johansen of the Art Dept.

"THE MORMON CULTURE has never produced a nationally known artist who was also a good Church member," said Lynn Tanner, chairman of the Local Forum series. "Why? It is time? Is Church doctrine incompatible with esthetic standards? Has the complacency of members created an unfavorable climate?"

THE THREE PANEL members are all contributors to their individual fields. Two marine paintings of Johansen's are hanging on the fifth floor of the Clark Library. Dr. Bradshaw, known as a contemporary musician, is versatile enough to have produced the baroque music for last year's production of Midsummer Night's Dream. Dr. Larson has published extensively in several fields. One of his noted works is "The Mantle of the Prophet," a dramatic depiction of the transfer of authority from Joseph Smith to Brigham Young.

Tanner described the trio as "easily able to represent their various fields. They are known among their colleagues as articulate and expressive men."

BYU Cast To Perform LDS Drama

A theatre production of "The Mantle of the Prophet" a drama by BYU English Professor Clinton F. Larson will be staged in the Empire Room of Hotel Utah in Salt Lake City at 7:30 p.m. on April 3, 5, and 6th.

KATHY TAYLOR, wife of BYU Travel Studies Director, Robert Taylor, will direct the play. She is known for her work on nationwide television.

Among those appearing in the play will be Lynn McKinlay, BYU professor, as Brigham Young; Francis Barry as Sidney Rigdon; Scott Whitaker as Governor Ford; Cliff Cabilanilla as William Clayton; Martha Henstrom as Nancy Daykin and Robert Taylor as Stephen Forbes.

"THE MANTLE OF THE PROPHET" concerns the history of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints just after the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

The play expresses the dismay of the Church at the news of Joseph Smith's death; the love that Brigham Young felt for him, and his knowledge of Joseph Smith's prophecies.

IT ALSO PORTRAYS the mantle of the Prophet Joseph Smith falling on Brigham Young's shoulders during the general conference of The Church in August, 1845.

"The Mantle of the Prophet" was written by Dr. Larson.
